

The image shows the interior of a Star Wars Smugglers Outpost. The view is from a central position looking out through a large, rectangular window. The window frame is made of dark, metallic material with several glowing blue light strips along its edges. Outside the window, a vast, dark blue space is filled with numerous small, bright stars and a bright, hazy nebula or star cluster in the center. The interior walls are also metallic and feature various cables, pipes, and control panels. In the bottom left and right corners, there are control consoles with glowing blue screens displaying star maps or data. The overall atmosphere is futuristic and mysterious.
